Public Relations is comprised of two areas:

Internal Communications and Printing

This team provides high-quality service to the LCCC community for projects for internal purposes and audiences including:

- printing, binding, copies, envelopes, letterhead, business cards
- graphic design projects such as: course catalogs, course schedules, promotional materials, programs, online forms, key surveys, maps, logos, signs
- web content updates

Strategic Communications and Marketing

This area promotes, enhances and protects the image of Laramie County Community College. The team produces and distributes accurate and timely information to share the story of LCCC, whether it be self-distributed via the website, social media, video story or external publication; or by crafting a news release, connecting with a specific reporter or media outlet. They are responsible for:

- development of the brand
- design
- photography
- videography
- marketing campaigns
- media buys
- evaluation analysis
