

Technology Infrastructure Fee

This fee is assessed to students to cover the cost of new installations, upgrades or improvements, and maintenance of core technology systems that directly and indirectly ensure the College has a high tech environment desired by students and required for efficient and effective operations. Infrastructure related technologies are shared across the College, and comprised of a combined set of hardware, software, networks, facilities, etc., necessary to develop, test, deliver, monitor, control or support core information technology services.

This fee is assessed per credit, up to a total of 12 credits. Types of expenditures allowed under this fee would include those that maintain the wired and wireless networks of the College, the student information system (currently Ellucian Colleague), content management system for the website, the Eagle's Eye intranet and portal, etc.

Student Technology Fee

This fee is assessed to students to cover the costs of various technologies that directly support the educational process at Laramie County Community College. The educational process is loosely defined as the academic and non-academic support services and activities that are essential to the success of students. Student technologies typically include software and hardware that intersect directly with students, assisting them with successful navigation of coursework or non-academic processes required to continue towards and/or attain an educational goal.

The fee is assessed per credit, up to a total of 12 credits. Types of expenditures allowed under this fee would include software and hardware for general-use computer laboratories, the College's learning management system (currently D2L), educational technologies integrated into the classroom (e.g., Tegrity, MyMathLabAdobe, etc.), academic support technologies (e.g., Smart Thinking, etc.), and non-academic support software (e.g., Starfish, Recruiter, Microsoft Office, etc.).
