Weather Situations

Snow

The grounds maintenance manager will call the Physical Plant Director by 5:30 a.m., who in turn will call the President.

1. The President or designee notifies PR, which notifies all local media by 6 a.m. The PR person also calls Campus Safety, residence hall, switchboard, Channel 191, the Children's Discovery Center, branch campuses, Student Life Director and Vice President of Student Services. The PR person sends out an LCCC email if possible. The PR person should call the media and then follow up with a written news release.

If the closure happens later in the day, the RAVE alert system, email and Channel 191 will be used to notify campus employees and students.

2. 'Closed campus' refers to all classes and activities in Cheyenne.
3. To find out about closures at branch campuses, check the Laramie County Community College website at lccc.wy.edu.

Flood

FLOOD WATCH—Flooding is possible.

FLOOD WARNING—Flooding is already occurring or will occur soon.

1. Move from the lower part of the campus to higher ground.
2. Stay away from power lines and electrical items.
3. Look before you step; make sure there is something to step on. Six inches of moving water can knock a person down.
4. Be alert for gas leaks.
5. Stay on high ground until notified.

Tornado (See shelter list on next page)

TORNADO WATCH—indicates that conditions are right for a tornado.

TORNADO WARNING—indicates one has developed or could develop within minutes.

Assist people with disabilities. Do not use elevators. Avoid outside walls, glass windows, corridors, doors and display cases.

1. Do not leave the building unless you are instructed to do so.
2. If possible, get under heavy furniture that might protect you from falling or flying debris.
3. REMEMBER that people generally are not killed or injured by a tornado's winds; airborne debris and falling objects caused by the winds are what cause most casualties in a tornado.
4. Do not leave the safety of the area until an "all clear" is given.

Earthquake

1. Seek refuge in a doorway or under furniture. If there is nothing available for cover, crouch against an interior wall and protect your head and neck with your arms. If seeking cover under a desk or table, hold on to it and be prepared to move with it during the quake.
2. Stay where you are until the shaking stops and it is safe to move.
3. Evacuate the building and assist any injured people or persons with a disability. Avoid electrical wiring, indoors and out. Do not use elevators. Go at least 500 feet away from the affected area. Keep streets, fire lanes, hydrant areas, and walkways clear for emergency vehicles and personnel.
4. Be alert for the smell of natural gas. If detected, leave the area immediately. Report smell to Campus Safety and/or Maintenance.
5. Be prepared for aftershocks. Most of these are smaller than the main shock but some may be large enough to cause additional damage. Move to an open area, staying at least 500 feet from the building.
6. Do not return to the building until you are notified it is safe. If requested, assist emergency crews as necessary.
